

Turn to the leading corestock supplier in the tissue and towel market.

Sonoco, at the Core of Your Business!

Sonoco supplies exclusive, tried-and-true corestock solutions.

- Start-to-finish service for your core winding machines
- Consult with experts about corestock grade selection
- Sonoco's Spiral Simulation Line allows us to simulate your machines, so you don't have to take downtime to trial new corestock.
- Help optimizing your core winding process to improve reliability, throughput and costs
- Best practices training in spiral paper tube winding
- Hands-on core machine audit to check condition of critical components, potentially leading to cost savings
- Additional cost savings projects such as: transitioning to single-ply cores, basis weight reductions and improving glue application processes
- Support for transition to making cores in-house

Why choose Sonoco?

With decades of experience in corestock manufacturing and tube winding and an extensive mill network across the U.S. and Canada, Sonoco understands the needs of your market and continually works to develop value-driven solutions. We offer customized, engineered grades to best fit your operations. Our dedicated technical service representatives are eager to partner with you!

Connect with the team that can be core to your business!

888-499-5330 | paperdivision@sonoco.com

