SONOCO DISPLAY AND PACKAGING

The Challenge

In a busy holiday season, InComm needed to stand out from the crowd, reaching consumers in-store to maximize convenience by letting them satisfy all of their holiday shopping needs in one place.

The Solution

Sonoco conducted an exploration of holiday themes and worked with the customer to select a Holiday Gift-giving Fireplace theme. To achieve a commanding presence in a compact footprint, our design team heightened the display to a 6-foot tall structure and used color, shape and texture to maximize eye-catching power in a busy holiday retail environment.

Graphics depict a masonry and brick-constructed fireplace. The hearth boasts a blazing, cozy fire licking upwards from die-cut wooden logs punctuated by "sparks" of blinking LED lights ablaze in red, yellow and orange. The masonry mantel is decked with pine boughs, red ribbon, LED-lit snowflakes, pinecones and whimsical stockings. Decorated pine boughs circle a brick chimney, providing the perfect backdrop for an assortment of gift cards. The displays arrived to Rite Aid floor-ready, with lights activated during assembly. Store associates simply removed shroud and one-piece construction hook fillers that protected the gift cards, SBS garland with LED lights, and the die-cut bows at the top of the chimney.

The Result: Happy shoppers, happy retailers, happy holidays

Featuring 72 card facings, the display communicated choice, letting shoppers know this would be a comprehensive one-stop location for holiday gift shopping. The fireplace concept allowed the entire variety of card categories to be planogrammed and shopped at a comfortable height. The design helped enhance holiday ambiance, command shopper attention and drive sales. InComm received feedback from the field that the display "size was perfect for the sales floor this year" and received "lots of compliments on the design and ease of set up." The display won a 2016 POPAI OMA Silver Award.
